

The Right Reverend Andrew J. Hayler serves as Suffragan Bishop of the Anglican Reformed Catholic Church, providing episcopal care to the Diocese of St. Martin of Tours until an ordinary is identified or elected. His prior senior leadership roles include Chaplain to Bishop Derek Jones, Vicar General of the Jurisdiction of the Armed Forces and Chaplaincy (JAFC), and Canon Theologian for the JAFC.

Bishop Hayler has authored multiple articles published in the JAFC Journal and has contributed extensively to the Education, Training, and Formation team, including facilitating the Distance Tutorial and instructing at the Residential Tutorial.

He currently serves on active duty as a Chaplain in the United States Navy, holding the billet of Deputy Wing Chaplain for the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing in Okinawa, Japan. His previous assignments include Marine Aircraft Group 13; the 15th Marine Expeditionary Unit (2010); Naval Air Station Jacksonville, Florida; USS GERMANTOWN (LSD-42); Fleet Activities Yokosuka; USS RONALD REAGAN (CVN-76); Electronic Attack Wing Pacific; and Camp Butler, Okinawa.

Ordained a priest in the Diocese of South Carolina in 2002 after graduating from Nashotah House, Bishop Hayler has served within the JAFC since 2011. Before seminary, he worked as a full-time church musician and apprenticed as a pipe organ builder in London, England.

He and his wife, Marissa, have been married for thirteen years and are parents to four adult children.
